My viewpoint is different than what they see at the bedside, but it’s sometimes a really, really important vantage point.

With attention-grabbing designs, Nest is now launching a $129 "Nest Protect," a smoke and carbon monoxide detector.